

Starla Hairston-Blanks, MBA

Starla Hairston-Blanks is a program manager for Community Voices: Healthcare for the Underserved of Morehouse School of Medicine. To this position she brings experience working at the local, state, and national levels on health policy, health promotion, diversity and access to care issues. Additionally, Starla has worked with community health workers, promotoras, coalitions, health departments; community based organizations, and national networks on health promotion efforts. Prior to joining Community Voices, Starla served as Regional Director for the American Lung Association where she was responsible for community engagement, fundraising, advocacy, curriculum development, training, program evaluation , as well as building relationships with faith based and diverse organizations. Mrs. Hairston-Blanks received her Bachelor of Science degree in Political Science from the State University of West Georgia and her Masters of Business Administration from Walden University.